The screenshot shows a user interface for a service platform. At the top, there is a header with the Canadian Homeopathy Wellness Group logo, a Dashboard link, a Social Platform link, and a user profile for Adrian Hoss.

The main area features three circular icons: one for 'Total events' (0), one for 'Services' (0), and one for a person icon.

A section titled 'My Service(s) Appointment' displays a table with columns: Booking ID, Homeopath, Appt Date, Booking Date, Amount, and Status. A message at the bottom of this section states: "No appointment(s) were found right now".

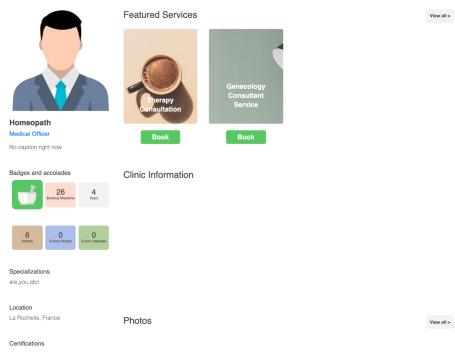

Add a zoom rectangular box here under "My services appointment" being the same size as "My services appointment".

Revert back to the original sizing for the very front page, I suggest moving the right side text downwards, as well as the illustration on the right side moved further down

#5 - <https://raoulOppenheim.wixsite.com/my-site/new-page-1>

Make the profile ui designed based on this reference for the homeopaths.

This should be active as the homeopath was approved through the admins backend. I cannot view the dashboard, or myclinic.

The screenshot shows the 'Services' section of the MyClinic platform. On the left is a sidebar with various icons and links: Dashboard, Social Platform, MyClinic (selected), Services (highlighted in purple), Settings, Finance, Documents, Customers, Appointments, Calendar, My Schedule, and Visit Site. The main area is titled 'Services' and contains a form for 'Add Registration'. It includes fields for 'REGISTRATION NUMBER E.G. (STH1M0R)', 'Add Designation' (with 'Designation' and 'Add Caption' fields), 'Add Specialization tags' (with 'Add a tag' field), 'Add Location' (with 'Location' field), 'Add Certifications' (with 'Certifications' field), 'Add Affiliations' (with 'Affiliations' field), and 'Started' (with '1 year ago' field). A blue 'Add Registration' button is at the bottom right.

#7 - This does not work.

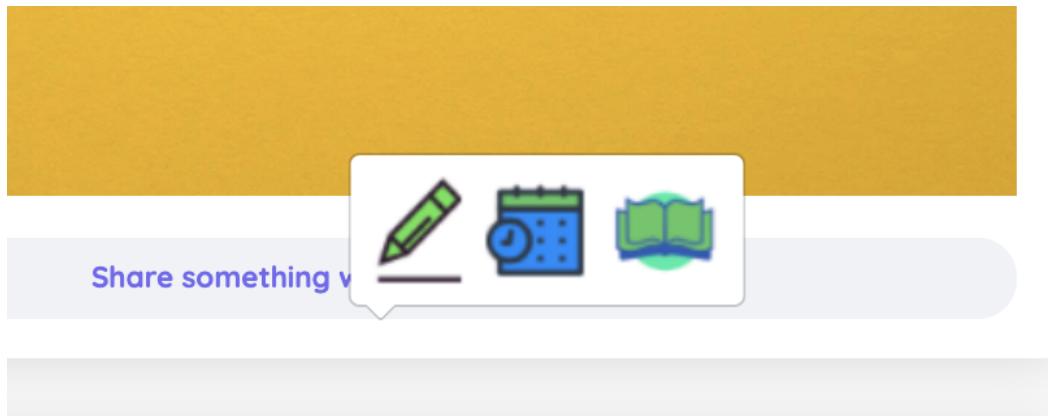

The screenshot shows a dark grey background with a white modal dialog in the center. The modal has a circular close button in the top right corner. Inside the dialog, the text 'Want to add/organize new event in upcoming days?' is displayed in bold black font. Below this is a blue 'Click Here' button. In the background, there's a dark grey header bar with a user profile icon, a 'News' link, and an 'Alerts' link. The main area of the screen is mostly dark grey, indicating no events are currently listed.

#8

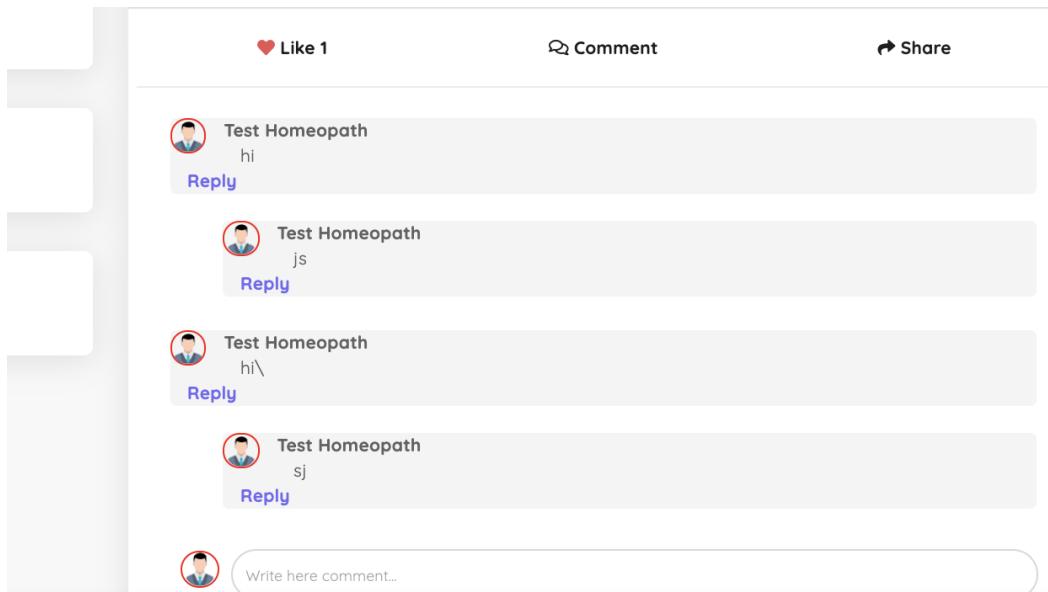

These icons are pixelated.

The first is a post, and resources.

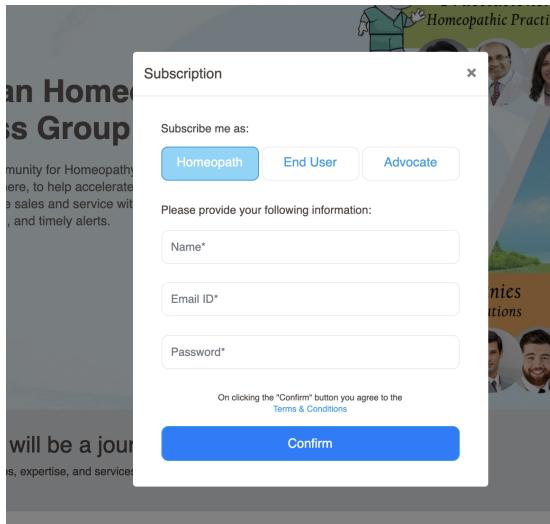

The options should be catered to each.

#9 - add delete option in order to remove comments

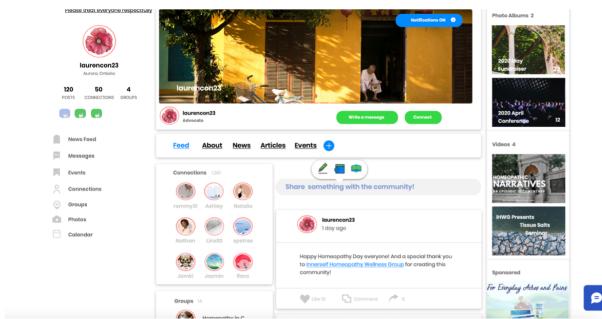

#10

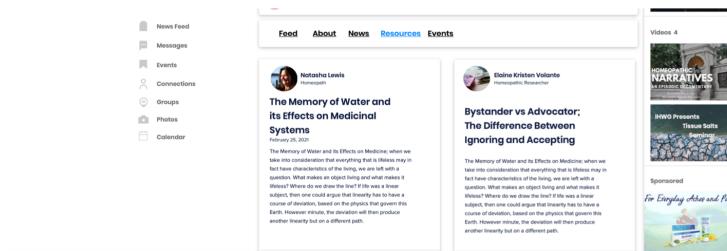

Make the Homeopath button green, end user the same blue, and advocate a shade of yellow.

#11 - Make the profile ui designed based on this reference for the homeopaths. This point is from update #15 the very last one.

2. For the social platform, both homeopaths, and advocates should have the news feed structured and designed like the references before.

Here is how the resources should be formatted

For all of these bottom banners “Work with us”
Extend the banner like before, maybe with less height.

For the page, CHWG for advocates, fix the top banner.

A social platform that is built with
Homeopathy at its forefront

Make sure the highlighted words are changing in the animated fashion we discussed earlier.

A screenshot of the IHWG website homepage with an animated top banner. The banner features the same green cross logo, navigation links, and user icon as the static version. The main headline "A social platform that is built with Homeopathy at its forefront" is displayed in a large, bold, black font. The word "Homeopathy" is highlighted in red, which appears to change color or style in an animated fashion. Below the headline, the subtext "Finally, a community that is sheltered from scrutiny, censorship, and capitalistic agendas. Let IHWG be a health haven for you and your loved ones." is visible. The banner also includes two images: a tablet displaying a news article and a person holding an open book titled "CULTURE". Below the banner, there are sections for "Articles from reputable sources that care" and a link to "https://demo.devitech.com/ihwg/front/assetsations from practitioners and organizations sources that care".
